Disclaimer:

The delivery of this training session relies solely upon video-conferencing technology, therefore, the organizer does not guarantee the program will be delivered in full if technical difficulties occur which prevent partial/full participation at any or all participating sites.

Recertification credits for the topics presented during the 2018 CORE Training have received accreditation from ODA. In the event of program disruption (in either 2-hour session or both), recertification credits will not be available for the part of the program impacted. Facilitators who experience program disruption can substitute content at the local level but will need to seek accreditation from ODA for the part of the program affected (however, there are no guarantees here either).

Oregon State University's Pesticide Safety Education Program (PSEP) reserves the right to cancel programs and will notify participants in an appropriate manner of this cancellation. Oregon State University is not responsible for costs incurred due to cancellation.
